

Amidst a bright and bold prairie, Wainwright is hard working, community-minded, family-first, and recreation master planned. We value what it means to be free. From our foundation lies a future where determination gets you everywhere while recognizing the value of building piles of fall leaves with a child, a game of catch with the dog, or coffee with the neighbour.

ROAM to Wainwright

WAINWRIGHT

In all things big, lives a reminder of how big life's possibilities are.

See big skies by day, countless stars by night – prairie horizons to find peace in as your car wheels roll. Never is life more evidently about the journey and not the destination as when you're sailing through a sea of canola so expansive it slams against the sky like two broad brush strokes of yellow and blue; the illusion broken only by the slow, circling dot of a hawk or a line of swollen thunderheads trudging along the deepening purple horizon.

How will you find your experience?
Roam to where your adventures begin in Wainwright, Alberta

Hear the thunder

of the Wainwright Stampede! The 8 second ride, the 1/4 mile road of hell, the roar of the crowds! Four days of action packed professional rodeo and chuckwagon races! Take in the sights and sounds of the midway, parade, pancake breakfasts and the Ag Fair. Kick up your heels at the rodeo dances and have a cold one in the beer gardens!

Sense 2,000 lbs of bull - rolling, snorting, stomping in the dust

Feel the overwhelming power of tough-as-nails buffalo roaming the Bud Cotton Paddock (located at the entrance to Wainwright Garrison) and leave no doubt as to why little more defines our First Nation's history than this royal beast of the prairie. From the simple joy of watching the orange haired calves running alongside their mothers and the the touch of coarse hair left hanging on a barbed wire fence, to the curious image of bare rubbing stone standing forlorn in the middle of a field and the sharp aroma and unmistakable taste of buffalo steak on the BBQ, you'll understand the humbled sense of wonder and delight.

Experience the vibrant

past of the prairies at the Wainwright and District Museum - a diverse and deeply moving experience guiding you through the proud history of the First Nations and the magnificent buffalo, the somber realities of a WWII POW Camp and the historical significance of the Canadian National Railway. Located in the original CN Train Station in the centre of Wainwright's historic district, and featuring displays, a giftshop and restaurant, the Wainwright Museum is truly a lifeline connecting us all to past, present and future...

Discover the flavour

of Downtown Wainwright. An array of eateries feature cuisine from around the globe as well as from our own backyard. Many of our restaurants and cafes are located in beautifully restored heritage buildings with decor tailored to embrace the stories of our Town through historic photos and memorabilia. Anchored in the centre of it all is Wainwright's free standing Memorial Clock Tower, one of the only structures left standing after the Great Fire of 1929. Enjoy the vibrant collection of shops, boutiques and services that provide a shopping experience for all to enjoy! Come visit today - we'd love to see you!

Hear the wet cool down sounds of summer

at the Riverdale, Clear and Arm Lake prairie oases as your canoe slices through the still of the heavy early morning mist. The weight of the rod in your casting hand as light and agile as the water lilies spinning on the water's surface and the memories of your youth dancing in your heart; the slap of fish and the graceful stealth of the heron probing along the shore; the spongy give of the ground beneath your feet as you wander along the riverbank; plucking golden brown marshmallows from the warmth of the campfire; shrieks of laughter and delight and coyote howls; the quiet hum of insects and the melancholy song of the owl lulling you to peaceful slumber under a shroud of stars...
